GOLDBLATT'S MARE FINISHES THIRD,

Well-Played Vestry Defeated by Orders and Aubuchon's Ride.

BETTORS GET THEIR BUMPS.

Ragged Edge of New Orleans Meeting at Hand, and Formful Racing Making Its Disappearance.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL New Orleans, La., March 16.-That the ragged edge of the local race meeting is at hand was evident from the show-ing of Mose Goldblatt's mare, Vestry, to-day. Well backed at 9 to 10 by the sucker money" and carefully eschewed by the educated players. Vestry ran third. Aubuchon's ride on the mare was so weak as to be rather amusing in spots. It showed his orders must have run to "lie about fourth until you reach the jockey board, then come on." Whether this was so or not of course can only be guesred, for the boy seemed in no hurry until he got to the jockey board.

He was then about four lengths back of Sadducee, the leader, a length of which he made up in the last three strides, for when Aubuchon really did set mare down, he rode industriously. The task he asked of her, however, to make up four lengths in twenty feet was too much, and she just nosed the noaccount Trogon out of third place Goldblatt's other candidate of the day,

The Regent, was 3 to 1 in the handicap and won in an easy romp. Annie Max, who ran her joke race yesterday, finished very strong, and beat Elsie L. a head for he place.

It was a had day for the bettors all round. It is hard to see where they got mything. Hardly, who took the first ace, was not played to any extent and only the wisest money was on Sadduces.

Governor Boyd, who took the fourth in about the slowest run race of the meeting, considering the conditions, receded in the speculative market, and Circus Girl was a grop in for the books. Most of the play in the last race went to John Doyle, who ran third. Wreath of ly, the winner, being neglected in a surprising way.

Jockey Fuller's celebration of his vic-tory on Ostrich in the Derby came to an abrupt end to-day when he showed up at the Mystery street gate of the race track. He iried to get in without showing his

The reult of the conference was that Hermann will allow Beckley to repay the Cincin nati team $1.080, which the latter bor rowed from Cincinnati, at the clo the playing season. This suits Beckley sation of the day at Essex Park was the and he has finally decided to go to Hous-winning of Joe Brockel with his owner, ton.

The first baseman wired M. Stanley Robison, the secretary and treasurer of the Cardinals, to reserve a berth for him Houston on the afternoon train. "Engle Eye" will reach the city this norning and depart for Camp Cardinal off in good shape and was never overtaken, winning easily by two lengths. Several bettors had as much as $5 on him.

The day was one of surprises. Not a single favorite took first place. Dominick fell from Ranchman at the start of the second race and very much interfered with George Vivian, so this favorite was never in the race. Dawson won on the bit, with inspector Shea and Sister Ruth struggling for the place.

Louisville ran entirely away from the field at 3 to 1 in the race and Kenova beat W. B. Gates for the place.

St. Patrick's Day Handicap, a sevenhorse race, will be the feature of the day for to-morrow.

Weather clear; track fast. Summaries: this afternoon. With Beckley on first base, the Cardinals will be improved at least 20 per cent. Of course, if Jake had never shown up the Cardinals would still have had a first-class man in Grady, but then Grady is not a Beckley.

In condition and playing at his prope form, Beckley is one of the best first base-men in the country. And, besides, he is heavy hitter and first-class coacher. Jake is seldom "asleep at the switch" during a game. When he is not in the actual playing he is on the side lines, tossing a line of conversation to his opposing pitchers and infielders that usually brings results.

With Burke, Grady and Beckley doing business on the coaching lines for the Cardinals, the airship traffic at League Park will be enormously increased among opposing pitchers.

That trio is liable to make a young play-That trio is likely to make you be seen if or some Sunday-school game before he is fairly settled, and if they do, it will be all off with that youngster for the rest of the day.

Beckley has a remarkable coaching volce. While it could hardly compete with Nordica's at a concert, it would put the singer everjastingly to the bad in a contest for the long-distance champion-contest for the long-distance championship.

Should Jake ever leave the game he could easily cara a livelihood at some deaf and dumb institution. Calling immates to meals. His volce can pierce anything from the thickness of a young pitcher's head to a battleship. In the matter of volce culture Beckley is in a class by himself among ballplayers.

With Beckley in camp, the Cardinals are minus but three players. Taylor.
Thieliman and Murch. Taylor, however, will be along in a week or two. Murch may not report at all, but if he fails to show up, the fans will be able to survive the shock.

CARDINALS MAY TURN OUT PHENOM IN PITCHER WOODS

stanley Robison's Discovery Pitcher Three Innings Against Regulars Without Giving a Hit.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Houston, Tex., March 16.-A high, cold wind and threatened rain caused Manager Nichols to curtail the game scheduled to be played between the regulars and colts his afternoon to five innings, the regulars winning by a score of 4 to 1. After a we hours' hard practice this morning, Nichols did not care to expose the men to full game in such weather. Corbett started off for the coits and McFarland officiated the first two lanings for the regulars, Woods replacing him in he third. O'Nell twirled the last two innings for the "dubs." Smoot carried off the Latting honors, getting two singles and a dcuble in three times up. Not a hit was made off Woods in the three innings he performed for the veterans. This makes eight innings the "phenom" from Illine's has twirled without being hit safely. The last exhibition game he figured in he held the colts five innings withut the semblance of a hit.

McFarland's arm is still giving him trouble, and he just lobbed the ball dur-ing the two innings he worked. Corbett and O'Nell appear in excellent form, and it begins to look as though Manager Nichols would have to depend upon these two pitchers and himself to do the bulk of Burke is complaining of a sore arm, and Johnny Farrell is under treatment of a local physicians for a game leg. Nichols has practically completed arraingements to take the team to Beaumont next Tuesday and Wednesday for a couple of exhibition games with the local team of that city. Thursday and Friday he will probably go to Calveston for exhibition games, returning here for Saturday and Sunday. The deni has not been settled definitely, as the Beaumont and Galveston managers have not as yet agreed to "Nick's" terms, but the chances are favorable for their acceptance. If the games are scheduled the Cardinal manager will take fourteen men along, leaving the balance to practice in Houston. Just who he will take along is not known as yet. The line-up of the men for these games will be watched with interest, as it promises to give some line on the manager's choice of the men who will compose the Cardinal team for the senson of 1994.

Dispatches from Chicago, published yesterday and announcing that Captain P. J. Carmody of the new Union Jockey Club had been a visitor in that city, seeking an alliance with the Jackson Park track were denied last evening at both ends of Reports from Chicago announced that a mistake had been made in sending out the disaptch, but that the announcement was sent in at so late an hour that it could not be fully confirmed. The source of the story was thought to be authentic, however, and the fact that Judge Brady was in Chicago was taken as an indication of the truth of the report. A message from a Chicago paper last evening stated that Judge Brady had been referred to in the story instead of Captain Carmody, but that the correspondent had mixed the identities. The dispatch itself, however was emphatically denied. Inasmuch as Captain Carmody has been continuously in this city for the last few days and was interviewed by Republic Son in Water representatives several times, including Sunday, when he was reported in Chicago, the mistake in the telegram is clearly apparent.

Mr. Carmody said yesterday that he had not left the city for some time, but that he wished to contradict the report as liable to put his race track in a wrong light. He did not wish the impression to get abroad, he said, that the Union Jockey Club was seeking alliances with any projected track in Chicago, nor did he wish Judge Brady to be considered an emissary of the local track on any such mission.

"The Chicago correspondents who sent out the reports misrepresent me," he said, "and evidently try to throw cold water on the Union Jockey Club. Neither myself nor any authorized party or parties have been in Chicago since December 7. We stee not making an alliance with any so-called new Jackson Park Club or race track. not left the city for some time, but that | Chamberlain avenue, Tuesday afternoon
